Refugee Health Nurse (Part-time 0.2 EFT)

An exciting opportunity exists for a Refugee Health Nurse to join our professional and committed workforce at Swan Hill District Health. This is a part time ongoing position of 0.2EFT (8 hours per week).

What does the job entail?

The Refugee Health Nurse (RHN) is part of the Refugee Health Nurse (RHN) Program which aims to increase refugee and asylum seeker access to primary health services, improve the response of health services to refugee and asylum seekers needs and enable individuals, families and the refugee communities to improve their health and wellbeing. The role of the RHN is to work collaboratively with other health and welfare providers and the community to provide assistance and support to newly arrived refugee clients including referral to appropriate health services. The RHN will work as a member of the Community Health team, and in a shared role with another RHN, in the Division of Community Care at Swan Hill District Health.

The Community Health team works closely with Departments within the Community Care Division and the broader health service, along with a range of local and statewide organisations, and our community.

Further information contact Gayle Taylor, Community Health Senior Manager on (03) 50339337 or by email gtaylor@shdh.org.au.

Applications including the names of three referees should be forwarded to: Human Resources Manager, Swan Hill District Health, PO Box 483, Swan Hill 3585, Victoria or email: employment@shdh.org.au.

Applications will only be accepted if they address the Key Selection Criteria and include an APPLICATION FOR EMPLOYMENT FORM. Email applications are preferred.

Closing date: Sunday, 10th September 2023

Position:	Community Health Nurse – Refugee Health
Classification:	Grade 3B Nurse (Victorian Health Services) Award or as appropriate within relevant award.
Department:	Community Health
Reports to:	Senior Manager Community Health
Position Summary:	Community Health Nursing provides evidence based clinical care and education to clients and the broader community in areas relating to sexual and reproductive health, refugee health, diabetes education, breastfeeding support and other areas as identified through needs assessment (and within scope of practice). The focus is on person centered care in promoting wellness and illness prevention.
	The refugee health nurse assesses health needs, facilitate referrals, and provides information and support about the health system to newly arrived refugees and asylum seekers. The nurse works closely with local health service providers, internally and externally to meet the health needs of refugees and asylum seekers and build service access capacity.
Prompt Doc No: SHDH0198752 v1.	Community Health nursing is a part of the overall Community Health Department which is responsible for undertaking primary prevention activities both within the organisation and the community. This work is informed and guided by the Ottawa Charter for Health Promotion with a focus on primary prevention activities that: • Target populations rather than individuals and complement other prevention activities. • Address health and social inequities, and disparities of access. • Are evidence informed, consider difference in gender and culture, and take a planned approach. • Involve the community in determining and addressing the factors which impact on their health. • Adopt a strengths-based approach to empower communities and individuals. Specific responsibilities of the role include: • Conduct initial health and social needs assessments, care planning and case conferencing with new arrival clients (using current Medical Benefits Schedule Refugee Health Assessment tool as framework where appropriate). • Facilitate and coordinate client's health care. This will involve liaising with services, schools and a wide range of health care providers. This may also require facilitating other health care providers' access to interpreters and educating clients in transportation to the service. • Involvement of client (and carers) in decision making regarding their care and negotiate agreed plans of action. • Communication of assessment and treatment outcomes appropriately in medical history and to referral source, including provision of written reports to relevant external organisations as required. • Liaison with other members of the health care team and external providers such as Mallee Family Care, to provide a coordinated approach to patient care, including effective clinical handover and referral as required.
